

My name is Rod Mosby, owner and official basketball skills trainer for 2020 Sports located in Augusta, AR. For the past 3 years I have been ranked as the 3rd most requested basketball skills trainer in Arkansas with Coachup, an online company that helps connect trainers with athletes. Once I created my business I started handling my own marketing and scheduling. Shooting is the most valuable skill in basketball. Many players simply have no idea how to do it well enough to be efficient. I have researched shooting for more than 8 years and have released videos on Youtube and printable instruction manuals illustrating what I know. I have had the liberty of sharing my knowledge not only with team shot trainers with the San Antonio Spurs and Denver Nuggets but also with players such as LeBron James and Ben Simmons.

My clinics are 4 hours and only have 15 slots. This allows me to give focused instruction to a smaller group. At this point I don't initially set clinic dates. I advertise to people in hopes that they come together as a group and aid in recruiting 15 kids that need training. Once I'm contacted we can go from there. Even though I reside in Augusta, Arkansas my clinics are mobile. That means that if you're not too far away (no more than 2 hours), I will come to your area and run my clinic at your chosen location. If you have more than one set of 15 players, we can set up multiple clinics. Each person will need to provide his/her own basketball if the facility does not supply them.

The clinic will start out with me speaking and addressing everyone. Next I will get the players moving and warming up. I will then explain shooting and demonstrate shot mechanics, footwork, dribble moves and more. The players will be involved at all times. Lastly, I will have the players running game simulating drills to get a good feel for what they have been taught. I will be providing sack lunches, and each player will get a 2020 Sports t-shirt. I believe that's everything. If you have any questions, feel free to text or call. If I don't answer your call or text, I promise to get back to you as soon as I can. Thanks again for your interest. Have a great day!
